

To all LOVERS and ADMIRERS of the BEAUTIES of NATURE.

JUST ARRIVED.

And to be seen in Two commodious CARAVANS, for a FEW DAYS ONLY.

A GRAND COLLECTION OF

RARE AND CHOSEN ANIMALS,

From the most remote PARTS of the WORLD, viz

THE NOBLE

LION

AND

LIONESS.

FROM THE TOWER OF LONDON.

*"Whose like, Earth bears not on her spacious Face,
"Alone of Nature stands the wondrous Race!"*

THESE most magnanimous Animals need no other Recommendation than to behold them.—The Lion, is universally allowed to be the King of all the Brute Creation, whose majestic Looks, and Voice like Thunder, strike Terror to the whole Kingdom of Quadrupeds; yet these tremendous Beasts are so tame, by being brought up from a few Days old, by sucking Goats instead of their Dams, that the most timorous may approach them with the greatest safety.—The Keeper has frequently gone into the Den and played with them.

The Royal Male striped BENGAL TYGER,

Which was brought over in the THETIS EAST-INDIAMAN, and landed January 13th, 1796; is supposed to be the largest ever seen in England.

THE LAUGHING HYÆNA,

Whose Disposition is extremely ferocious, and never to be tamed by man; is strong and more daring than any other Animal. He sometimes attacks Men, but rushes with great fury upon Cattle of all kinds; his Eyes sparkle like Fire in the Night, and his Cry resembles the Human Voice: when Prey falls him, he tears up the Earth with his Feet, where the Bodies of Men or Animals are deposited, and devours them; he even sometimes attacks other ferocious Animals. He is a Native of AFRICA and ASIA, and dwells in Caverns of Mountains, and in Cliffs of Rocks, or Dens which he digs for himself in the Earth.

Two beautiful PANTHERS, Male and Female, from SOUTH AMERICA.

A Ring-Tail LEOPARD, from the CAPE of GOOD-HOPE.

Nothing can exceed the Delicacy of its Form, or the Regularity of its Colours. It is certainly a fine Display of Nature's amazing Productions.

A real Hunting TYGER, from BENGAL, in the EAST-INDIES.

The only one in England.—It is needless to endeavour to enumerate the vast Variety of striking Colours that adorn this Animal, since all our learned Authors have described him as the most beautiful of Quadrupeds.

 Admittance to LADIES and GENTLEMEN IS.—SERVANTS, &c. 6d.—But why should I mention this? generous and noble Souls, scorning to deviate or demand Price, will always pay like themselves.

The Proprietor of the above Collection begs leave to assure the Public, in order that they may not be imposed upon, that the above are the only LIONS that travel this Kingdom.

[STAINBANK; PRINTER, BOSTON.]